Customer Reviews

The book by Gary Taubes, "Why We Get Fat and What To Do About it," is very well written, thoroughly supported by citations, and quite helpful. I spent several hours outlining and summarizing the book, in the hopes that my grandkids could use the information I had distilled from it. My outline is 14 pages long and is not as clear as I would like it to be. So, I wanted to see how the professional writers at Eureka Books distilled the essence of the book. The "Key Takeaways, Analysis & Review" by Eureka Books is a sad, unhelpful, mess.

Key Points: Gary Taubes' book has 19 chapters. He makes several key points in each chapter. The Eureka booklet has 9 "key takeaways." Every one of these points made by Eureka actually contradicts, or at best misses, the points made in Gary Taubes' book.

Sources: Gary Taubes' lists over 200 sources for his factual assertions. Taubes' sources include the relevant medical and scientific studies on fat gain/loss over the past 400 years. The Eureka booklet lists none of Taubes' sources, and instead lists and discusses 9 sources that were not used by Taubes. For example, the Eureka booklet cites someone named Julie Fredrickson as the sole support of 3 of its 9 "key takeaways." When I googled the link to Julie Fredrickson, I found that she calls herself an entrepreneur, and also claims that she has successfully lost weight. Eureka has thus ignored virtually all of the scientific literature on weight-loss in favor of a non-scientist's anecdotal story. Analysis: The Eureka booklet does not contain any analysis of Taubes' book. The author of the Eureka booklet displays a lack of understanding of the basics of biology.
